They will be crowned in a special assembly to be held at 12 o'clock Friday on the baseball field. Also at this assembly will be the judging of the beard contest. Three prizes will be awarded for the longest, most attractive, and the scrougiest beard. An additional award will be given to the faculty member with the best beard.

Seniors From Orange County High Schools Visit, Tour College Campus

Seniors from the free-Orange County high school districts were guests of the college yesterday morning in SAC's annual high school visiting days program.

Last Wednesday afternoon seniors from Santa Ana High School visited the campus. In both instances, the seniors spent two hours at the college.

The students registered in the Student Union and filled out blanks stating their major field of interest. Next, a general meeting was held in the lounge and Associated Students prexy Bob Merker welcomed the visiting seniors.

Student Speakers

Student speakers representing various departments of the college presented the offerings of their department. These speakers were coordinated by speech instructor Mr. Lee Ford.

The seniors were then divided up into several groups of about 30 members each, and were conducted on a tour of the entire campus by members of the Knights of Las Doncellas, honorary service organizations.

Visit Departments

Among the departments visited were the shops, music, engineering, journalism, agriculture, science, library and art, drama, Child Growth and Development Center, faculty offices, administrative offices, P.E. buildings, and various classrooms.

The tours ended up at the Student Union and refreshments were served to the seniors. Faculty members from each department were available for consultation with the prospective students at the college.

Summer Sessions To Start June 15

Summer sessions of SAC's Evening Division will start on June 15 and run through August 7, according to Stuart Carrier, director of the division.

The eight-week term will hold classes on five nights a week, with the 3 unit courses meeting on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday night; and 2 unit subjects meeting on Tuesday and Thursdays. Periods will be two hours in length and there will be two of them each night; from 6:00 to 8:00, and from 8:00 to 10:00.

A tentative schedule for summer school has been submitted to the Santa Ana Board of Education for approval.

Fields covered are business education, engineering, English, home-making, language, trades and industries, mathematics, music, sciences, and social sciences.

Evening Enrollment Expands to 1615

Enrollment in Santa Ana College's Evening Division for the Spring term is now 1615 students, it was announced by Director Stuart Carrier today.

Santa Ana Bond Election Set For June 2nd

On June 2 a $869,000 bond election for Santa Ana College will be held for Santa Ana voters. On the same day, bond elections for building programs for the elementary and high school districts will also be provided. Total amount of the three bond issues is $3,985,000. The college bonds, if passed, would provide for a gymnasium, little theatre and fine-arts building combined, and a science building.

At present the college has no gymnasium, but uses the overly compact facilities offered by Santa Ana High School. There is no little theatre or auditorium and the students must hold their assemblies either out of doors on wooden bleachers, or in the cafeteria where many of them must stand.

The science buildings now in use are remodeled Army buildings and many are outdated. Astronomy students must go to the high school campus to use the college's telescope which has an estimated value of $20,000.

College Expansion Program To Face Voters June 2

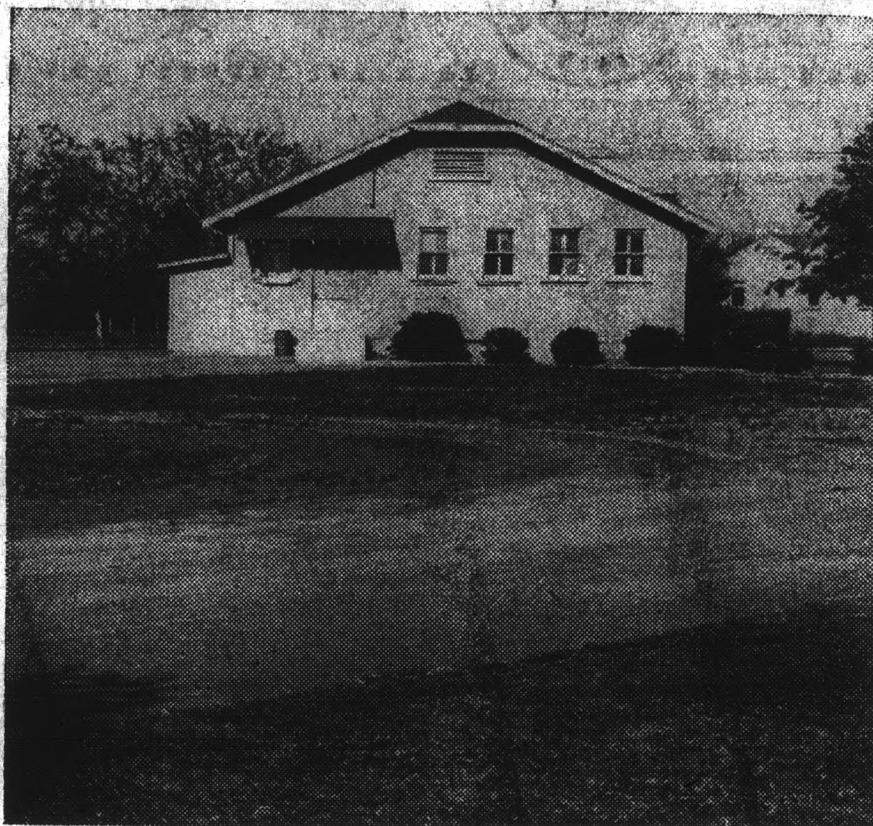

800,000 Dollar Bond Issue Needs Student Support

Citizens of Santa Ana will have a chance to enlarge the prestige of their community this June when an eight hundred thousand dollar bond issue will be placed before the people in an election. This bond issue, if passed will give Santa Ana a much improved junior college, one that will match any in California.

The city Board of Education, in approving the college bond also approved a high school and junior high school bond issue. These three will be voted on at the same time in June.

It is unfortunate that the junior college bond issue must face this competition. People are apt to neglect higher education, in the light of SAC's smaller enrollment, in favor of the junior high and high school.

Santa Ana College needs a gym and an auditorium. Students must begin to make these needs known so that the people will vote for a better Santa Ana College in June.

REPLACE THIS—Studio A, seating capacity 150, which is currently in use will be replaced with a 500 seat little theatre to be included in a new fine arts building if the college bond issue is passed June 2. The new building will also serve as a community concert and lecture hall. —El Don Photo

New Gym, Auditorium Will Benefit SAC and Community

The community of Santa Ana has everything to gain and nothing to lose if the proposed 800,000 dollar bond issue is passed June 2.

At present there is no auditorium or even a decent student gathering place on the SAC campus. The bond issue would provide for Fine Arts building, with a little theatre, new science building with the most modern equipment, and also a new gymnasium.

The little theatre with a seating capacity of 500 will, besides serving as a student auditorium, serve for community concerts and lectures. This would be a fine asset, intellectually, for the city of Santa Ana.

The new gym, besides serving college basketball teams, would also be used by the high school and teams playing in the city league.

The new buildings will serve the people of the community both intellectually and athletically. This is why we urge a YES vote for Junior College bonds June 2.

Mickey, Korean Army Mascot Adopted By SAC Alumni Needs Clothing Now

Mickey, an orphaned Korean boy who lost his parents during the early months of the Korean war has been unofficially adopted by SAC graduate of 1951 Chuck Daugherty and members of his infantry battalion now serving in Korea.

In a recent letter Daugherty described the plight of the 15 year old boy who, he says, is the size of a 12 year old American boy.

"The boy is so small," says Daugherty, "that there is no clothing over here to fit him. We need clothing for a very small boy, preferably something very warm.

Mickey, as the soldiers named the youngster, has been with Daugherty's battalion for over a year and a half and lived in the city of Seoul during its recapture by the Americans.

If any SAC student has clothing for Mickey he may bring it to the Journalism newsroom, U6, and we will see that it is sent to Korea immediately.

EDITOR'S COMMENTS: End of An Era

Cook To End Colorful Coaching Career; Clean Football, Tradition of Mentor

By BOB ELSNER

Although this isn't a sports column, we feel that we are justified in this week's topic. Bill Cook during the past week has turned in his resignation as head football coach . . . a position he has held for 26 years. The column this time is devoted to some of the sidelights on his career.

Andrew Jackson "Bill" Cook has coached at the same junior college longer than any other coach in the state . . . and probably in the whole country.

After graduating from the University of Southern California in 1927, he came to Santa Ana the same fall.

Night football for junior colleges in Southern California was inaugurated by Cook in 1933. He also instigated the first JC international football series: Dons and Mexico City Poly in 1952.

Cook has always been a gentleman . . . on and off the field. He is respected by his players and fellow-members of the coaching fraternity. He has always, like any good coach, wanted to win, but has never taught dirty football tactics. He has no use for the coach who lets his team deliberately run up a score on a weak opponent. An incident related to me by the student body president of Fullerton Junior College best exemplified Cook's character.

"It was in 1949, and the Dons were close to winding up their victorious season and hoping for the Junior Rose Bowl bid. In their last conference game, the Dons were easily beating their opponents. At halftime Cook's team had a comfortable lead, when he was approached and told that the Junior Rose Bowl selection committee was in the stands; and that if the Dons were to have a chance for the Bowl bid, they had better run up a big score.

To this Bill Cook replied, "That's what I have to do to get to the Junior Rose Bowl, I'll have no part of it . . . they can have their Bowl game."

He didn't run up the score, but he did get to play in the Rose Bowl.

The era of Bill Cook has and always will be one of the finest traditions the college will ever have. He won't be forgotten!

Predict Nature Is Science Goal

Do you believe use of the scientific method is becoming more prevalent in the 20th century?

By THOMAS VAN OSDALL

The ideal goal of science is to obtain a fundamental generalization from which all natural phenomena can be predicted. The highest goal of scientific research is to improve the lot of mankind.

Huxley has said that "science is nothing but trained and organized common sense."

The so-called scientific method of arriving at truth, as used by the scientist, is an application of the principles of rigorous argument that are developed in mathematics and in logic to deduce a sound conclusion from the data at hand. The procurement of the data constitutes scientific research.

It may be wise to speak of the spirit of science rather than the scientific method. I believe that integrity, fairness, judgment based on evidence, and the love of truth constitute the spirit of science.

Certainly all of these should be applicable to social, economic, and political problems. Whether they can be realized in these fields through the medium of the scientific method is hard to say. Such may be impossible.

There are those who say that thinking is the one thing in the world upon which no one has ever been able to put a tax or tariff. If this be true it should be the prize possession of all men.

In teaching knowledge, some success may be claimed; but in teaching man how to live failure seems more apparent.

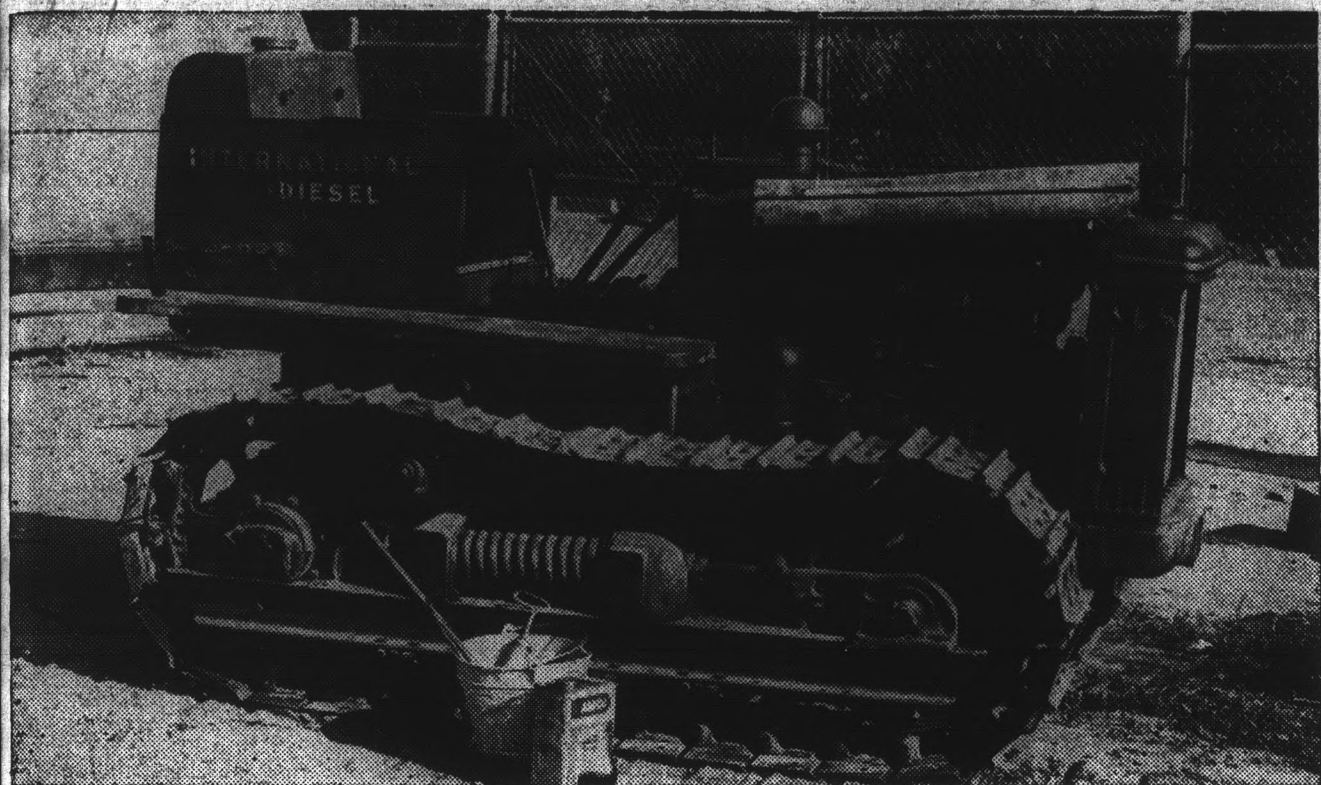

As Millikan has pointed out, "compared to the age of the earth, man is like a nine day old baby." Give us a few thousand years and we may begin to realize some measure of success in our search for these goals so long sought as ideals for a better life.

Metal Arts Class Repaints Patio Tables and Chairs for Student Union

The metal chairs and tables which comprise the furniture of the Student Union patio were sanded and repainted this week by the students of the metal arts class of SAC.

The chairs and tables, originally made for the Student Union patio, were coated with beeswax and various other elements. Before repainting could be started it was necessary to remove all foreign coating which had accumulated over a long period of time. To accomplish this, a solution of wax and grease remover was used. Primer was also used as a rough undercoat for the final coat of paint.

Students participating on the job completed the work in two days. Total cost of the work amounted to $33.00 which included the wax, grease remover, paint remover, primer, and paint. There was no charge for the labor on the job according to metal arts class instructor, Arlin Pirtle.

College Tractor Gets Overhaul

The SAC agriculture department's TD-6 tractor underwent a complete overhaul this week by the farm mechanics students.

According to Paul Andres, agriculture instructor, the tractor was donated to the college by the Eltiste Company of Santa Ana. However it has been used by the SAC students for over a year, and has needed repairs for several months.

The motor will be worked over and the body will receive a new paint job. When repairs are completed, the tractor will be used for maintenance of school property, as well as for instructional purposes in the agriculture department.

Gish Takes Job

Walls Gives Up Post as Student Business Manager

Glenn Walls, Associated Students Business Manager since last September, resigned his post last Friday. Mrs. Hazel Gish, secretary to the deans, will handle the Business managerial job for the remainder of the year.

Walls' reason for stepping down was financial. He was offered another position, and since the SAC job was only a four-hour daily post, he made his move. He came to Santa Ana College this year, succeeding Walter Adrian.

Mrs. Gish has been working as deans' secretary on a six-hour a day basis. She will continue in this job, it was announced.

Joe Littlefield Speaks to SAC Gardening Class

Joe Littlefield, one of the Southland's foremost gardening authorities will present an address to Santa Ana College's Home Gardening class April 27th at 7 p.m. with the public invited.

"Summer Flowers in a Hurry" will be the topic, which will be held in Room A-1. Mr. Littlefield, famous for his practical, down to earth gardening advice, is a regular contributor to leading gardening magazines.

Says Mr. Littlefield, "After twenty-five years of 'dirt-under-the-finger nails' gardening experience, there are deep, dark secrets to good gardening. It's all a matter of simple, regular, periodic following through on a few important fundamentals."

Eastern Conference Dance Needs to Be Held Annually

By BOB HICKS

The Eastern Conference let three years go by between their first and second "annual" dances. The opinion expressed by most couples after last Saturday night's affair at Balboa's Rendezvous Ballroom, was that the conference colleges more than made up for past errors.

All seven schools took time out to name their queen candidates, who were attendants to the girl who won. On stage, student body presidents did the honors. Santa Ana's Mary Lewis was crowned queen by SAC president Bob Merker. The queen contestants were presented with gardenia corsages, and Mary Lewis received a mammoth bouquet of red roses.

Orange Coast College served free punch for more than 1000 dancers. Freddy Martin furnished danceable rhythms from 9 to 1, with Stewart Wade and pianist Murray Arnold making with the vocals.

According to prexy Merker, "the co-sponsored dance was a big step forward in inter-conference relations. It's success" Merker states, "may make it the first of an annual Eastern Conference activity."

Five New Records Feature Politics Philosophy, Poems

Five new record albums which feature such diversified topics as philosophy, political speeches, poems by an outstanding 20th century poet, a complete short story read by the author and the very best of light verse written by the master, Ogden Nash, have recently been added to the SAC record collection by librarian Ruth Bradley.

For philosophers, Bertrand Russell speaks on "Human Nature and Politics." This is the speech he made accepting the Nobel prize for literature in 1950.

The men who succeeded in attaining the highest office in the United States and those who also ran are heard on "If I'm Elected," the actual voices of our Presidents and their opponents narrated by John Carradine. You hear the voices of 18 presidents from 1892 to 1952, including Woodrow Wilson, William Howard Taft, Norman Thomas and many others.

A collection of poems set to music by the master of light verse, Ogden Nash, entitled "Carnival of the Animals" spoken by Noel Coward on a Columbia disk has also been added to the collection.

McMurray Discusses Nursery And Child Development at Faculty Meeting

A series of lectures by SAC faculty members on subjects in their own fields of interest is currently being conducted as a part of college faculty meetings. Last Wednesday, Mrs. Zena McMurray discussed the Child Development and Parent Nursery Center.

Mrs. McMurray is in charge of the center, which is located on the SAC campus, and she told about the home economics course, 13 AB.

By CARMELA CLARK

The El Don continues to gather awards in the field of journalism. The most recent award was presented to the staff Monday at the University of Redlands' annual Journalism Day.

A Certificate of Merit for outstanding news coverage, make-up, editorials and pictures was awarded for the issues that have been published this semester with Bob Elsner as editor.

Braven Dyer Speaks

Journeying to Redlands were Ellen Daugherty, Dorothy Dees, Carmela Clark, Bud Ottaway, Ernie Luzania and advisor Carl Venstrom. Program for the day included a discussion of the openings in sports for writers by Braven Dyer of the Los Angeles Times.

Following lunch, the awards were presented and then the group enjoyed a question and answer period with Lord Dunsany, considered by many to be the finest living English writer.

Jo Phipps, roving reporter for Redbook magazine then told the more than 200 students present the method of writing and selling articles to various magazines.

Other Awards

Last week, El Don was awarded "All-American" honors from the University of Minnesota's school of journalism. This is their highest award to college newspapers and only three junior colleges in the country with enrollments of 500-1000 received the All-American nomination for the fall semester.

Columbia University of New York recently awarded El Don Medalist Honors, Columbia's highest journalistic rating for college newspapers.

John Dowden, former El Don editor, also received an award for the "best editorial" of 1952-53 from the University of Southern California in their annual Newspaper Day.

Shands Resigns as Tavern Post Editor

Bill Shands turned in his resignation as editor of this year's Tavern Post, SAC literary magazine, to advisers Lota Blythe and Thomas H. Glenn, it was announced this week. No successor has been appointed as yet.

Excessive academic and extracurricular activities were given by Shands as his reasons for stepping down.

"I'm sorry that this move was necessary, but other activities were more pressing," he stated today.

Shands was editor of El Don last semester and is serving as Feature Page editor this term. He is also A.S. Commissioner of Assemblies.

The requirement of all students enrolling in this course is two hours a week lecture and discussion; and three hours participation in the laboratory per week.

Mrs. John C. Bellows, wife of the newly-elected board of education member, was a guest of the faculty at the meeting.

SAC Head Coach for Twenty-Six Years To Remain on Staff as Athletic Director

Bill Cook, SAC football coach for the past 26 years, has turned in his resignation as grid mentor, to be effective next season. He will still serve as Athletic Director and P.E. Department Chairman.

The announcement was made last week-end when Cook sent a letter to College Director Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, requesting to be relieved of his coaching duties. He recommended that John Ward be named to succeed him. Ward has been line coach since 1939 and is also Don track coach.

During his career as the Dons' football coach, Bill Cook won 11 Eastern Conference championships, including National Championships in 1940 and 1942. His 1949 team was the West's representative in the Junior Rose Bowl.

He came to the Don campus when he graduated from USC in 1927, where he played tailback in the late Howard Jones' single wing. It is the only coaching job he has ever held, except for a time he also coached at Santa Ana High School.

He names the following players as the best he has coached at Santa Ana College:

Santa Ana Baseballers Back In Win Column, Whip Riverside Tuesday 4-1

Joe Voso choked off Riverside with four hits Tuesday as he pitched Santa Ana back into the win column with a 4-1 victory at Memorial Park.

SAC nicked Riverside starter Tom Ricketts for a run in the second frame on three consecutive singles by Humberto Valdivia, Chuck Burke, and Bob Baker. The Dons increased their margin to 4-0 one inning later.

Voso pitched airtight ball for six innings, allowing only two hits. He lost his shutout in the seventh when, with two out, Ricketts singled, took second on Voso's own error, and scored when Cox laced a single to center.

Ricketts walked seven batsmen while striking out six; Voso gave up two bases on balls and fanned five.

Volleyball Tourney Ends This Week

Santa Ana College's second annual Co-ed Volleyball Tournament concluded yesterday with game results unavailable at El Don press time.

In the championship finals, Bill Franklin's team met the winner of Tuesday's game between the players of Bert Kohnhorst and Ted Pinnix. Franklin's team reached the finals by beating Gene Frehler's squad in first round play 27 to 26 and Jim Bell's six in the second round, 26 to 16. Bell's team had won over Phil Bennett's by default.

Also in first round competition, Pinnix defeated Ilene Kathman's squad 27 to 17 and Kohnhorst's six won over Bob Hick's by default.

Frehler defaulted to Bennett in the second round of the consolation bracket. Bennett's team squared off yesterday with the victor of Tuesday's Kathman-Hicks tussle for the consolation title.

Racqueteers Edge Orange Coast, 5-4

Coach Maurice Gerard's Don netters strengthened their hold on third place Monday, shading Orange Coast 5-4 in a conference match on the college courts.

Santa Ana now has a 3-2 won-lost record in conference play.

Scores of the matches were unavailable, but in the singles competition John Schultz, Felix Martinez, and John Kates triumphed in the first, second, and sixth matches respectively.

In the doubles Schultz-Martinez and Harold Teague-Bob Merker teamed up to cop the first and third matches for the winning points.

SAC Baseballers Meet Fullerton

Santa Ana's baseball nine journeys to Fullerton Tuesday, seeking their eighth conference win in eleven outings. The seven inning contest begins at 4 p. m.

Fullerton usually has one of the better teams in the conference, but so far the Hornets have managed only two victories against six defeats. At that, the Dons may be in for trouble since they needed an extra inning to eke out a 1-0 triumph earlier in the season. Carmelo Renne blanked the Hornets in that game with a neat two-hitter.

Probable starting line-up for Santa Ana is Harvey Bryan, first base; Chuck Burke, second base; Marshall Van der Linde, short stop; and Bob Baker at third. Bob Switzer, Humberto Valdivia, and Tom Laspada will be in the outfield. Either Joe Voso or Carmelo Renne will be the starting pitcher with Gary Ford catching.

Mounties Shatter Don Hopes 5-2

Joe Koral's Don nine dropped out of the race for the conference championship after being bowled over by Mt. San Antonio, 5 to 2, in a game played on the Mountie's diamond last Friday.

The loss was the second straight for Santa Ana and shoved the locals down into third place in the standings.

The Dons held a slim 2-0 edge for seven innings, but the eighth was their undoing. The Mounties capitalized on two singles, a fielder's choice, an error, and three walks for all their scoring and the ball game.

Tom Smotherman held SAC closely in check for eight innings, giving up two runs on five hits. He was lifted for a pinch hitter. Ray Wallner hurled the final frame, setting down three straight SAC batsmen.

Santa Ana's only scoring came in the fourth on Bob Switzer's double, singles by Joe Voso and Tom Laspada, and an infield error.

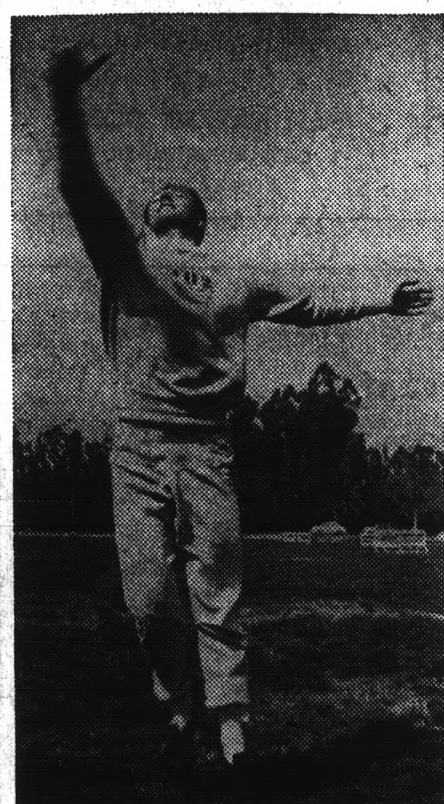

Score by innings:
Santa Ana000 200 000—2 5 1
Mt. San Ant. 000 000 05x—5 8 3
Batteries: Voso (L), Renne (8) and Ford; Smotherman, Wallner (8) and Westerfield.

Swinden Rewrites School 220 Record As Marines, Pirates Slaughter SAC

Sprinter Chuck Swinden's sensational performances over the weekend easily overshadowed Santa Ana College's twin drubbings by Camp Pendleton and Orange Coast respectively. The scores were 83 to 39 and 92 to 32.

In Friday's practice duel with the marines, Swinden blazed a 9.7 century and then came back to break the school record in the 220 with a 21.2 clocking. At Orange Coast Saturday he sprinted a speedy 9.9 100 and equaled his time of 21.2 in the furlong.

Only six thinclads competed against Orange Coast. The rest were unable to make the meet because of jobs and military commitments.

FLYING SAUCER—Duane Gustafson hurls discus in effort to better 150 ft. —El Don Photo

Larry Kirchmann turned in a 49.6 440 Friday, fastest jaysee quater mile in the Southland this season. He tied with Bert Kohnhorst for second behind Swinden in the 220.

Duane Gustafson tossed the discus an even 146 feet, only 4 1/2 inches short of his own school record, for another outstanding mark.

SAC's 440-yard relay team, composed of Kirchmann, Kohnhorst, Dick Wolfe, and Swinden, missed by one-tenth of a second of setting a new school record. Their time was 4:56.

Other Don point-gatherers against Camp Pendleton were Ed Winter, tie for second in the high jump and third in the broad jump; Jack Wilcox, third in the mile; and Buddy Igou, third in the pole vault.

E.C. Prelims to Be Held Here Next Wednesday

Eastern Conference preliminaries will be held on the Santa Ana College oval on Wednesday, April 29 with the finals on Saturday May 2.

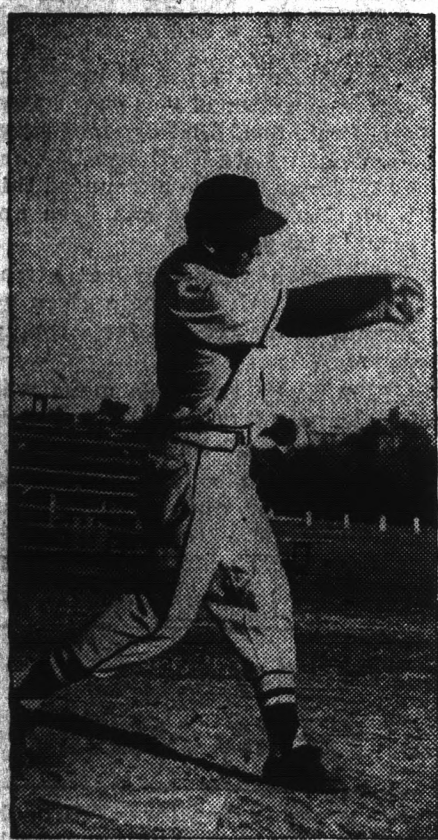

The Don track is the fastest in the Southland with the exception of the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Sunset League spikesters run off their finals here today at 2:30 p.m.
